

Tea Party

On July 25th the Clinton Museum hosted its first official tea party. Summer students Rylee Shumay and Rachel Miller were in charge of organizing the event. A total of 11 kids attended the party. Volunteers and staff provided the art supplies, iced tea and snacks. The tea party started at 12:00 and went till 2:00, an hour longer than planned. The tea party started with drawing in the barn followed by tea, snacks and then basic waltz lessons and a game of tag. The kids also got to try quill writing and got to sit in the old wagon in the barn. The tea party was a huge success and all the guests and staff had an amazing time.
